FOOTBALL SEASON is now with us as teams ranging from the Pop Warner set to the hefty pros clash on gridirons all over the nation.

Regardless of their own college affiliation, most Campbell residents have a warm spot in their hearts for Cal's Golden Bears this year.

Two of the regulars on the Bears squad are two Campbell High grads, JACK SCHRAUB and CRAIG MORTON. And big things are expected from the duo.

We are writing this before Cal plays its first game against Missouri. But you are reading it long after the Monday morning quarterbacks have had their full say.

The Morton-Schraub combination is going to do ok, we feel. After all, that's a combination that has considerable experience working together. The duo actually started their combine when they were in the elementary grades in Campbell and it has continued right through high school and college.

We also like to think that Craig's expertness in tossing the football was helped considerably by his experience in tossing the Campbell Press on the doorsteps of local residents, for Craig served as one of our carriers.

Recently when Jack's dad, Fred, visited our office to see if we could dig up any photos of the two football stars in their youthful days, we drew a blank.

The Berkeley paper had asked Fred to see what he could do about finding such pictures. The best we could do was to find a picture of Jack in his high school football uniform which turned out to be one that the Schraub's had loaned to us in the first place.

Cal is not our school but we will be pulling for the Campbell duo to star for Cal this year in every game.

We will be pleased to join with a "TRUE BLUE" like Bill Means in cheering Cal onward. This season at least.

FOOTBALL has developed a vocabulary of its own in recent years. Thanks to the sports announcers and their expert assistants who are generally old pros.

We have learned, for example, that a "tight end" does not necessarily mean that a lanky pass-catcher has been out on the town.

The experts in their descriptions of the plays may have added color to the broadcasts. Their explanations we know will be helpful, provided one first learns the language.

Rincon-Latimer

City to ask county to open streets

Campbell's case for the opening of Rincon and Latimer avenues when the San Tomas Expressway is built will be presented to the County Trafficways Committee next month.

Mayor Charles Rose, this city's representative on the committee, said he plans to ask for a modification of the expressway agreement at the next meeting of the committee.

Rose said he will present the results of the recent hearing held on the issue and also of previous studies that had been made.

Under the expressway agreement signed by the City Council last year, both Rincon and Latimer will be blocked off by the expressway.

During recent months, aroused business people of the community, spearheaded by the Chamber of Commerce, asked the City Council to try to get the original agreement modified so that the two streets would be unblocked.

A large delegation of businessmen attended the public hearing called by the City Council to determine the feeling of residents and business people on the question.

By an unanimous vote, the Council, after the hearing, agreed to ask the Trafficways Committee to modify the agreement and get the streets opened. The Council also emphasized that the matter would be taken to the supervisors if the trafficways committee failed to amend the agreement.

The majority of the Council seemed to feel that crossings at grade level would be more practical and less expensive than overpasses. But the main point, at first, they also emphasized was to get the case reopened.

Former mayor protests

JOHN M. CHARGIN, San Jose attorney and former mayor of Campbell, represented Mrs. Fred Smith and her son, owners of San Tomas Shopping Center, at a recent City Council meeting. Chargin protested a zone change that would allow a shopping center development at San Tomas and Hacienda.

Dinner to honor champs

This community will have the opportunity to honor their most distinguished citizens (junior grade) on Thursday, October 1, when the Pony League world champions will be guests at an awards dinner.

The dinner will be held at Villa Felice at 7:15 p.m. Tickets are $5 per person and can be reserved by calling Les Baldinger, DR 9-4439; Bill McLain, 378-8516 or the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, 33 N. First, 378-6252.

Baldinger, in charge of the affair, emphasizes that the dinner is not a fund-raising event but is to honor the Campbell-Moreland Pony League world champions.

The all-stars broke all existing Pony League records when they sailed through the district, area, sectional, regional and divisional tournaments without losing a game. They continued their winning ways in the world series in San Diego, defeating Gadsen, Ala, for the world title on August 29.

Campbell-Moreland's record of 18 consecutive victories over the long-tournament trail will probably stand a long time. One of the local's victories was a 4-1 win in a 16-inning contest, for another new record.

Bob Fontaine, scout of the Pittsburgh Pirates, will be the principal speaker at the dinner.

High School

District to seek two more sites

Campbell Union High School District will proceed immediately with the selection of school sites and the other steps necessary to add two new high schools to accommodate expanding enrollment.

This was the statement this week of Laurance J. Hill, district superintendent, following the successful election last week in which voters approved a $10,000,000 bond issue by an overwhelming vote of 10,921 "Yes" to 2,745 "No."

STATEMENTS

"We are gratified that our judgment of the district's needs was confirmed so substantially by voters," said Arends. "We hope to continue to merit the support of the community by providing good schools at the lowest cost consistent with high quality."

"It was a community effort to which literally thousands contributed," said Superintendent Hill. "We are happy that we will be able to provide the district with the schools it needs at a minimum cost to taxpayers."

Requiring a two-thirds vote, the bond issue actually was approved by a vote of 80 percent. A total of 13,666 votes were cast, 25 percent of the 56,418 in the Campbell Union High School District. Of the 34 precincts in the district, only one, Burbank, failed to accord the proposal a two-thirds vote. In Burbank the vote was 85 "yes" to 64 "no." (See tabulation on inside pages.)

Vehicles get top billing

Vehicles of varying sizes and shapes will occupy the attention of the City Council next Monday night.

The Council is expected to call for bids for two passenger cars for the city, one to be used by the chief of police and the other for the city manager.

In addition, the Council is scheduled to decide the type of street sweeper that should be purchased by the city. Awarding of the street sweeper bid was deferred at the last meeting to allow the city

$32,500 comes out of escrow

City acquires property for corporation yard

Campbell has a corporation yard, finally. Or at least the necessary land has been obtained.

Almost two years after the agreement had been made to purchase a three-acre parcel at the end of Dillon from Western Gravel, Co., the transaction was officially completed this week.

City officials have announced that the city has now acquired title to the property. It "came out of escrow" this week.

The city has had $32,500, the purchase price, on deposit in escrow for the past 18 months.

After months of searching for a suitable site for a corporation yard for the city, the offer of Western Gravel for the three-acre plot on Los Gatos Creek was accepted on October 8, 1962.

During preliminary negotiations with the

Y' opens branch office in Campbell

Southwest YMCA, which serves boys in Campbell and adjacent West Valley communities, has opened a branch office at 72 W. Campbell Ave., Campbell, under Director Arthur J. Northrop.

The Southwest YMCA, a branch of the Metropolitan YMCA of San Jose and Santa Clara Valley, serves boys in Campbell, Cambrian Park. Los Gatos. Monte Sereno, Saratoga and Morgan Hill.

Northrop, a veteran YMCA official, has been director of the Southwest Branch since inauguration of the metropolitan organization structure two years ago. A search for suitable Southwest Branch offices has been under way for many months.

The Southwest Branch provides a community-centered club and activity program for school-age boys; the program, administered by Northrop, is drafted by a branch board of managers, whose Campbell members include Robert M. Culp, principal of Campbell High school; the Rev. W.H. Gould, pastor of Campbell First Methodist Church; Harry O. Mayfield of Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co. and Municipal Judge Richard W. Rhodes, who is secretary of the Board.

The Metropolitan YMCA is organized into three regional branches--Southwest, Central and Northwest--to serve all areas of the Santa Clara Valley, and a Camp Branch which operates the "Y'S" Camp Campbell in the Santa Cruz Mountains near Boulder Creek.

Northrop doubles in brass as director of the Camp Branch as well as the Southwest Branch now headquartered in Campbell.

Commendable actions

Two recent actions by the City Council call for commendation, in our opinion.

OPEN STREETS

The Council unanimously agreed to attempt to amend the San Tomas Expressway to allow for the opening of both Rincon and Latimer Avenues.

Under the agreement, both Rincon and Latimer will be blocked off when the expressway is constructed through town.

Business people and residents in recent months indicated by their reactions that they did not want the two streets cut off. They felt that the blocking of the streets would tend to "divide" the town and thus directly affect the business in the present commercial areas, the life line of the city.

Opponents to the road blocks emphasized that an important part of the city's revenue stems from sales tax and when business suffers, so does the sales tax.

At a public hearing on the question held by the City Council, a large delegation of business people and residents was present to urge the City Council to take action to open the streets.

The Council agreed at the hearing to initiate action first in the County Trafficways Committee and, if need be, with the supervisors.

All recognize that it will be a long, hard struggle, if the expressway agreement is to be amended. It will take a strong "selling job" on the part of the city's representatives.

But we feel that the mandate given the Council by the many residents and business people at the public hearing and through the resolution of the Chamber of Commerce will give the Council the needed ammunition in the fight.

We are also confident that Mayor Charles Rose, the city's representative on the Trafficways Committee, and Councilman Ralph Doetsch, the alternate, will wage a strong and vigorous campaign to get the streets opened.

JUNIOR COLLEGE

The other action by the City Council for which that body deserves a strong pat on the back, is the resolution that also was passed unanimously urging the West Valley Junior College to locate permanently in Campbell.

The Council declared that the city would cooperate in every way to assist the college officials in finding a site within or adjacent to the city limits.

We have long been of the opinion that it is to this community's advantage to have the junior college locate in our midst.

We have maintained time and time again that the problems that arise because of the college being here are really penny ante compared to the advantages culturally and economically that will result.

Thus far even with the college housed in temporary quarters at one of the busiest intersections in town the traffic problems have not been as bad as were anticipated, according to city officials.

No one has argued that the temporary junior college location at Winchester and Campbell is the proper one for the junior college.

Aside from the fact that the area is not large enough, it is recognized that a "downtown campus" for any college is poor planning. San Jose State is a case in point in this regard.

We, therefore, commend the City Council for taking the action and we, too, sincerely hope that the college officials find a permanent home in Campbell.

Car careens into parking lot

Mrs. Irene Lillian Wilco, 49, of 649 Hadley Ave., San Jose, was taken to Campbell Community Hospital following a rear-end collision Saturday night which sent her car careening into the Campbell Plaza Parking Lot at Winchester and Budd Avenues.

According to Campbell Police Officers Schomer and Bariteau, who are investigating the accident, Mrs. Wilco was driving south on Winchester and slowed down to turn into the Campbell Plaza Parking Lot when she was allegedly hit from the rear by a car driven by Martin Joseph Lyons, 12 Kimberly Drive, Apt. 2, Campbell. Mrs. Wilco's vehicle hit a light pole in the parking lot.

We turn white

Today's paper is white.

The shift to yellow from green was made for easier identification. Subscribers had complained that because a San Jose weekly paper was also using green paper in the Campbell area, it was confusing. So we changed to yellow.

But nobody seemed to like the "yeller". Not even the staff.

So we turn white.

But not from fright.

A good example of word coinage is found in Democrats and Republicans. These two words are being bandied about in newspapers to a great extent at the present time and will continue to be until November.

Newspapers have shortened Democrats to "Demos" and Republicans often becomes "Reps" or "GOP".

We received quite a shock recently when we saw an ad in paper which in big, bold type announced:

"ALL DEMOS MUST GO".

Such an order would not be unusual for a Goldwater broadside but this declaration appeared in just an ordinary paper.

However, after reading the ad, we discovered it had nothing to do with political parties...

"DEMOS" in this case referred to demonstrators.

The advertisement was for cars.

VOTERS in the Campbell school districts gave their overwhelming endorsement to the bond issues on the ballot last week. The bonds had to pass by a two-thirds majority. The voters did much better than that in all three cases, Campbell High, Campbell elementary and Moreland. The vote in some cases was 4 to 1.

This was not the case in Temple City where we spent some time as editor of The Times. A $5 million school bond issue before the voters in Temple City barely squeeked by with 67.8%.

On the other hand, the passage of the bonds there was a greater achievement than in this area, in our opinion.

Unlike us here, Temple City is not "impoverished". There is no state aid. The bonds in Temple City will raise the taxes while in the Campbell area schools, the tax remains the same.

Our representative in Temple City Ralph Turner, former publisher of The Times, knowing we would be interested, called us Tuesday night when the ballots had been counted. He informed us of the narrow victory.

Coincidentally, Ralph's message came in between calls from Bill Henley and Larry Hill telling us of the local situation.

It was an interesting contrast.

F. R. Schlichting heads UF drive for doctors

F. R. SCHLICHTING

For the third year in a row, Dr. Frederick R. Schlichting is heading up the Campbell United Fund professional division. Schlichting's reappointment was announced by Campbell UF campaign Chairman O. S. Sorenson of the Bank of America.

Schlichting, who practices medicine in Campbell at 621 E. Campbell Ave., will lead solicitation of five professional categories. His division will contact 34 physicians, 20 dentists, three accountants, three architects and seven attorneys in the Campbell community.

Schlichting will be one of 12,000 other volunteer leaders throughout the country involved in the United Fund drive, funds from which support 65 agencies.

These 65 agencies depend, in some cases, on United Fund contributions for their entire budgets.

Press reports of the recent Farnborough Air Show sponsored by British Aerospace Companies featured the spectacular in both new designs and exhibition flying. But a much more significant story was told in the thousands of exhibits by English aircraft companies and their suppliers. It was the story of a nation and its private industry joining together in a serious bid to dominate the world's commercial aviation business.

British aircraft engineers have always been progressive in pushing the state of their art into new and unknown areas and judging from the Farnborough Show they are still crossing aviation frontiers. But a lack of national resources and productive capacity has held them back and denied them a superior competitive position. Now the British government is taking steps to overcome these deficiencies. It has forced private companies to consolidate for efficiency and has embarked upon a heavy program of government subsidy aimed at progress. Judging from the tremendous sales at the Farnborough Show of aircraft to be delivered in the future, the rest of the world apparently has faith in these efforts and the future of British aviation. Even United States companies were purchasing airplanes like the BAC-111 which will compete with the U.S. made Douglas DC-9.

Except for inadequate partnership arrangements like those now in effect for the development of a supersonic (SST) plane, U. S. companies are forced to go it alone. In past years American commercial aircraft have frequently been byproducts of military development. Improved technology and know-how for building commercial aircraft was welcome fallout from large purchases of military aircraft. But today's emphasis by the Defense Department is not on the type of aircraft which might lead to commercial models. Bombers have been ruled obsolete in the missile age and no new ones are under development. As a result any new commercial plane must be developed from scratch with private money.

Many commercial aircraft companies have found to their dismay that "going it alone" is risky business. The Convair Division of General Dynamics built a great airplane in its 880-990 series but lost more than $200 million doing it. The Douglas DC-8 and 9, also great aircraft, have not been money makers. Boeing with its 707 was a bit more fortunate since the Air Force bought it in the KC-135 version as a flying tanker for Strategic Air Command. Even then Boeing did not produce its first profitable 707 until just a few months ago.

Aircraft development costs are so fantastic that they are beyond the reach of an unsubsidized private company which cannot spread its overhead over both commercial and military production. For this reason Great Britain, our toughest competitor, has accepted the partnership of government and private interests as inevitable.

Pipe line to import water

Residents in the area who have noticed underground digging going on in the East Campbell Avenue and Hamilton Avenue neighborhoods will be interested to know this is the installation of the Central Pipe Line, a Santa Clara Project, which will import water from the South Bay Aquaduct.

The huge pipes to be installed are 66 inches inside diameter. They have already been installed under Camden Avenue and will be going along the Freeway.

The Council is also expected to take action on the purchase of a dump truck for the public works department.

Other actions scheduled by the Council will include the awarding of the bids for Phase II of Campbell Park and also for a maintenance contract for the city parks.

On the agenda also will be the report on the traffic problems in the Westmont High School area. Residents in the area have complained that high school students are speeding on the streets and endangering the lives of the elementary grade youngsters.

The Council may also take action on the selection of an architect to draft plans for the new fire station planned for the Sunnyoaks area.

gravel concern, there was discussion over the possibility that Western Gravel would construct the necessary buildings on the property on a lease purchase arrangement.

However, discussion over the construction phase of the project bogged down. The city then took steps to purchase the property outright. That was when the $32,500 went into escrow.

Another phase of the involved corporation yard problem developed when the city contracted with an architectural firm to draft plans for the buildings that would be located there. Approximately $8,000 has been spent in plans which included a city engineering office.

Recently the city dusted off the plans and City Manager Bob Stephens was directed to see if any of the plans could be used for a more modest development at the site, eliminating the engineering building. Stephens is soon expected to make a report on this to the Council.

THAT FEMININE TOUCH

By Dolores Keywood

Many figure problems stem from posture problems. Although your measurements may be satisfactory you may still appear to be out of proportion and probably all because of poor posture.

Constantly slumping forward may be the cause of an under-developed or sunken bustline. Midriff bulge, excess "baggage in the rear" and bony shoulders might also be attributed to a poor posture.

Even more serious than the damage done to your figure by poor posture is its threat to your health. Slumped or rigid positions disrupt normal breathing, circulation, digestion and placement of internal organs and can lead to deterioration of your physical condition and appearance.

Bad habits have molded your stance so only good habits can correct it. A few effortless exercises will not solve the entire problem but the problem can be solved with concentrated routines. First you must determine where your posture defects are. Whether you have a swayback, your shoulders slump forward or stand soldier stiff, there are specific exercises for you. Either write to me or check the library for books on body alignment. Meanwhile, here is a formula to follow that will help you while striving for that ideal posture.

1. Imagine that someone is gently pulling you by the top of your head so that your neck will be lifted out of your shoulders.
2. Hold chin parallel to the floor.
3. Relax shoulders so they are not straining forwards or backwards.
4. Gently elevate chest as though taking a deep breath.
5. Pull your waist up out of your hips.
6. Retract the abdomen and tuck the hips under the body.
7. Place your right foot at a forty five degree angle and place your left heel at your right instep so the left toe points straight ahead.
8. Flex both knees slightly, placing most of your weight on the right leg.

ENGAGED—Miss Jean Aspden of Campbell and Glen Secor of Berkeley revealed their engagement at a party held recently in Berkeley. The young couple plan a June wedding.

Jean Aspden is engaged

The romantic news of the engagement of Miss Jean Aspden to Glen Secor was revealed at a party held recently in Berkeley. The betrothal announcement was made by the bride-elect's God-father, Alfred Higby of Los Gatos.

Miss Aspden, the daughter of Mrs. Harriet Aspden of Campbell and Edward Aspden of San Diego, is a 1961 graduate of Campbell High School. She is a member of the Los Gatos Assembly of the International Order of Rainbow for Girls, and the Masonic Order at the University of California where she was a student in accounting. She is presently employed by Paramount Business Service of Campbell.

Secor is the son of Mrs. Ruth Secor of Santa Rosa and Kenneth Secor of Sacramento. He holds a Bachelor of Science degree and a Master's degree from the University of California where he is presently studying for a Ph.D. degree in engineering. He is a member of Tau Beta Pi and Chi Epsilon fraternities and a student member of the American Society for Testing and Materials.

The couple plan a June wedding after which they will reside in Berkeley.

Paintings by Frank Cutting to be displayed

Paintings by Frank H. Cutting, noted Central California artist, will be shown in October at the Congregational Church of Campbell, 400 West Campbell Avenue. The showings, open to the public, will be from one to five P.M. on three consecutive Sundays, October 4th, 11th and 18th.

The showings of Cutting's work are an important feature of the church's seventy-fifth anniversary celebration. Cutting had participated in the planning of these exhibits before his death in June of this year. The church is now planning the showings in memory of him.

The Stanley Milledges celebrate 25 years

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley W. Milledge of Campbell were the guests of honor at a delightful surprise party planned by their children in celebration of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. The couple's four children, Jeffrey, Wendy, Kathie and Melissa, were co-hosts for the affair, which was held at the family home at 276 Radford Drive. A silver and white color scheme was carried out at the buffet table. Champagne punch and a midnight supper was served to approximately thirty guests. Many gifts and cards were presented to the happy couple, who cut a beautifully decorated wedding cake. The Milledges were married in Hamilton, Ontario, Canada, September 9, 1939. They have made their home in Campbell for the past five years.

Among those having invitations to the event were Mssrs. and Msdms: Ralph Chambbers, J. MacDougal, G. Morrison, J. Norton, J. Fanning, T. Nixon, G. Miller, B. Jones, F. Gianciracusa, L. Freeman, M. LuRitz, Miss Carol Saylor, and Mssrs: Joseph Pate and Ronald Morrison.

West Valley J. C. needs three sites for new campuses

The Governing Board of West Valley Junior College has agreed to proceed with acquisition of sites for three campuses "as soon as funds are available."

It also heard strong appeals this week, backed by petitions containing nearly 1,100 signatures of Saratoga residents, that the first of the three campuses be located in that city.

The decision to acquire the sites came as a result of enrollment projections which indicated the district would have nearly 15,000 students by 1985, and because the Bureau of School Planning of the State Department of Education recommends that the optimun junior college should accommodate a maximum of 4,500 to 5,000 students. Although the sites would be acquired as soon as possible, actual construction of campuses would proceed only when justified by enrollment demands.

MASTER PLAN

The Board adopted as part of the master plan a policy of locating one of the permanent campuses in each of the three high school districts comprising the junior college district, Campbell, Los Gatos Joint, and Santa Clara Union High School Districts.

In the interests of conserving the tax dollar and obtaining its maximum utilization, the Board said it would make every attempt to secure the most economical property possible from the standpoint of site development. Natural boundaries, expressways and freeways, the plan further noted, will be used as much as possible in determining the attendance centers. All efforts will be made to reduce commuting time for students.

To provide for adequate parking area and room for expansion, the Board indicated that it would seek sites of 125 acres minimum, insofar as is possible in areas generally suited to development of campuses that would enhance the entire neighborhood.

Earlier, the Board heard strong appeals from two residents of Saratoga that the college's first campus be located at Allendale and Fruitvale Avenues near Saratoga Road. Richard Bennett, of 20531 Brookwood Lane, a former member of the Saratoga Planning Commission, told the Board: "In only a few days time we have turned the tide in Saratoga. There are many people in our community who want this junior college, because of its cultural values, but I cannot find a single instance where this has been true."

At previous meetings, other Saratoga groups have appeared opposing consideration of the Saratoga site for the college.

G.S. "Sam" Hernandez of 14626 Big Basin Way, next addressed the Board, renewing an earlier plea that the Saratoga site be chosen. As he spoke Hernandez presented the Board with petitions bearing 1,062 signatures of Saratoga residents favoring the Fruitvale site for the college.

A number of letters by Saratoga residents urging location of the college in Saratoga were read. The board also received a communication from the Good Government Group of Saratoga urging that they "refrain from locating the first of the junior colleges on the proposed Fruitvale-Allendale site."

Dr. Wallace W. Hall, superintendent-president, presented the latest enrollment figures. The student body, he said, as of Thursday afternoon, totaled 3,114 persons, of whom 1,900 are day students and 1,214 are evening students. These figures, he said, are far ahead of expectations.

OTHER ACTIONS

In other actions the Board:

Approved financial claims in the amount of $115,283.75.

Approved interdistrict attendance agreements with Riverside, Fullerton, Orange and San Luis Obispo junior college districts.

Accepted a notice of completion of work done by R.W. Michael, contractor, in renovating the present campus site for temporary use. Adopted a resolution of appreciation for the gift of a lectern by Mr. Michael.

Formally approved terms of an agreement with the Los Gatos Swim and Raquet Club for use of its facilities by the West Valley water polo team.

Cast named for "Molly Brown"

A new musical organization, the West Valley Light Opera Company, directed by Paul Santos, has named the cast members for its first production, "The Unsinkable Molly Brown." There are still openings for male dancers and members of the chorus. Inquiries should be made to the Light Opera office, 379-5700.

Featured as Molly, will be Celine Wilcox of Boulder Creek. Opposite her as Johnny "Leadville" Brown will be Doug Hagdahl of San Jose. Others having major parts are Steve Johnson of San Jose, Larry Schenfeld of San Carlos and Ernesta Laszola of Cupertino. James Carey of Campbell will be the lighting director.

What's doing?

You don't have to be an expert archer to work for the Telephone Company, but sometimes it helps. On several occasions telephone men have put bows and arrows to good use in getting a phone line across a lake or deep ravine. These modern day William Tells attach a light line to an arrow, take careful aim, and shoot it over to a helper on the other side. Then the telephone line is attached to the lighter line and pulled across . . . another interesting way in which telephone people provide service quickly and economically.

The seven phone ages of man are these:

"Of course, I'd like a dancing date."
"Remember the minister just won't wait."
"Yes, my son is stationed overseas."
"I'd like to speak to my grandchild, please."

Highway Patrol seeks applicants

Captain R. P. Bliss, commander of the California Highway Patrol's San Jose Area, has issued a call to all local young men who are interested in a career in traffic law enforcement to file an application to take the civil service examination for state traffic officer.

The examination will be held on November 7, and applications to participate must be filed with the State Personnel Board by October 9.

"The Patrol is looking for serious-minded young men with an aptitude for law enforcement work," Captain Bliss said. Then they must pass physical and medical tests and a personal interview before they are placed on the eligible list.

"Interested men are welcome to discuss the Patrol and the benefits it offers as a career with any California Highway Patrolman. Full information and application forms are also available at the Patrol office at 680 Commercial Ave., San Jose."

County health warns about rabid skunks

The Santa Clara County Health Department has announced that a skunk found recently in a garage at 515 Temple Drive, Milpitas, was proven rabid by laboratory examination.

Milpitas Police and a Health Department Rabies Control Unit removed the animal from the garage. To date there has been no evidence that any domestic animal or person had been bitten by this sick skunk.

This is the second case of rabies found in wild life since August 7 - the other being a bat from the Stevens Creek area.

George E. Martin, D.V.M., County Public Health Veterinarian, warns persons to avoid contact with wildlife that appears sick, behaves strangely or appears tame, since rabies can be transmittee directly to man. Any person bitten by a wild animal should immediately visit a physician.

Frequently dogs come in contact with skunks, as well as foxes, bats and other sources of rabies, continued Dr. Martin, making it necessary to vaccinate all dogs against rabies in order to protect both the dog and the human population.

Dog owners whose animals are not vaccinated should avail themselves of the services of their private veterinarian or Health Department Clinic.

By ordinance all dogs must be vaccinated against rabies and licensed.

No proposal will be considered unless made on forms furnished by the City Engineer of said City at his office of said City. Each proposal must be sealed, and the envelope containing the same must be addressed to the City Clerk of the City of Campbell, and must be plainly marked:

"Proposal on Project No. 64-7"

Each bid shall separately state in both words and figures the price offered for the approximate quantity of each item set forth in the proposal form, and shall also state in words and figures the total contract price. Quantities set forth in the proposal form and in the specifications are approximate only, being given as a basis for comparison of bids, and the City of Campbell does not, expressly or impliedly, agree that the actual amount of work or materials will correspond therewith, but reserves the right to increase or decrease the amount of any class or portion of the work or material or to omit portions of the work or materials as may be deemed necessary by the City Engineer.

Proposals may not be withdrawn after the time fixed for opening of proposals. The Council of the City of Campbell reserves the right to reject any and all proposals, and to waive any errors or informalities in any proposals.

Plans and specifications may be obtained at the office of the City Engineer upon receipt of a check for five dollars ($5.00) per set made payable to the City of Campbell. A refund of five dollars ($5.00) will be made for these sets if returned in good condition within ten (10) days after date of bid opening.

NEW EQUIPMENT-- Pacific Telephone operator Jo Montoya, of 3189 Leigh Ave., Campbell, and Pat Trenor, Traffic Operating Manager try out information equipment in the new office at 1615 Foxworthy.

Pacific Telephone expands customer services in area

Pacific Telephone has announced a vast expansion of information services for customers in San Jose, Saratoga and Campbell.

A building addition at 1615 Foxworthy in San Jose will house information facilities for 24 operators. This along with 36 operators at 80 South Market Street office raises to 60 the number of information operators serving the area.

Jack Dempsey, local telephone manager, said that rapidly growing service needs necessitated the larger operator force. He added that daily telephone calls have increased by nearly 80,000 in the last year.

The opening of the new office marks the first time in the Bay Area that operators have been seated in groups of four. Usually they are seated in long rows.

At the outset, the Foxworthy office will handle information calls from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. After nine, calls will be routed to the Market Street office.

The information equipment was installed for Pacific Telephone by Western Electric, the manufacturing arm of the Bell System.

Bank studies county's future

The attention of key national business and industrial executives will focus on Santa Clara County next month as the result of a detailed economic study nearing completion by Bank of America.

The study, being conducted for the past three months by a team of the bank's economic researchers, will include the history of the county's spectacular economic growth, the factors which constitute its present economy, and the outlook for the future, according to Charles Haywood, director of Economic Research.

Entitled "Focus on Santa Clara County", it will be distributed to out-of-state businessmen and industrialists who might be interested in doing business here, as well as libraries, schools, lawmakers, industrial developers and realtors. Publication is expected sometime in October.

Recreation at City College

The inauguration of a recreation program for citizens in the area has been announced by San Jose City College, 2100 Moorpark Ave. On Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sundays from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. the Women's Gymnasium will be open for badminton, volleyball and other games.

The swimming pool will be open to the public from 1 until 5 p.m. on week-ends as long as weather permits. The tennis courts are also open to the public during the weekends. All activities are free except for a 25 cent charge for swimming. Swimmers must furnish their own suits and towels.

Bank appoints new officer

Mrs. Ella Mae Van Gundy has been named operations officer at the Campbell branch, Bank of America, according to T.J. Regas, manager.

Mrs. Van Gundy began her banking career in 1953 at the Arvin Branch, where she remained for five years before being appointed to officer status at the East Bakersfield branch.

From 1961 until accepting her new assignment in Campbell, she was assistant operations officer at the Second and San Carlos Branch in San Jose.

She is the wife of Ronald W. Van Gundy, who is operations officer at the bank's International Science Center Branch in Sunnyvale. They are the parents of a three-year-old girl, Marianne.

She succeeds Gene Intrieri who has been transferred to a similar position in the San Pablo branch in Oakland.

Auxiliary plans busy season

The Women's Auxiliary of the Campbell Community Hospital is looking forward to a season of social activity as well as to service to patients. The organization held a "pool party" at the home of Mrs. Victor Thoman on Cambrian Park Drive which was attended by approximately 20 prospective members. The group will soon augment their volunteer services at the hospital with a floral cart with fresh flowers for sale and a library cart with books and magazines.

Among the events planned for the fall are a Christmas dinner party, a cocktail party for members and husbands hosted by President Mrs. Lee Mondragon. A daytime party at the home of Mrs. Eric Schramm is planned for the month of December.

YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY

By Gladstone A. Boquist
Field Representative

Q.-My husband is 66 and I'm 63, but he won't retire. I worked a few years myself a long time ago. Do I have to wait for my husband to retire before I can get Social Security?

A.-Your husband must be getting his Social Security before you can get benefits as his wife. However, you should take your Social Security card to your Social Security Office and see if you're eligible for benefits because of the work you did. Anyone who has a Social Security number should check on his or her account when retirement age draws near.

Q.-I have a friend who gets disability payments from another Federal Agency. Does this mean he will qualify for Social Security Disability payments too?

A.-Not necessarily. To get Social Security Disability Payments, he must be disabled to do any work. Some programs only require that you be too disabled to do your regular job.

Q.-I was in a car wreck last month and will not be able to work for a long time. I have a wife and three young children. If I qualify for Social Security Disability Payments, can I get any extra for my family?

A.-Yes. If you qualify, your wife and children will also get paid.

Q.-I started getting Social Security when I was 65. My wife will soon be 62. I've been told her check will be one-half as much as mine. Is that true?

A.-No, a wife who applies before age 65 gets less than one-half the amount of her husband's benefit. If, for example, her husband's retirement benefit was $100, she would get $50 if she applied for her payments at age 65; but if she applied at age 62, her benefit would be reduced 25 percent to $37.50.
